Shallow sculptural planter for feature plantings and ground covers. Ideal for plazas and entry zones, offering bold form, durable finishes, and low maintenance urban greening.

Description

Designed for commercial use, each planter is constructed to withstand the demands of high-traffic public spaces. They offer a durable and visually striking solution for integrating structure, scale, and biophilia into the public realm.

The Dish Planter offers a shallow, elegant profile that's ideal for creating sculptural planting moments. Its low form is perfect for feature plantings, ground covers, or ornamental displays in open public spaces. The Dish's wide surface area creates visual impact without obstructing sightlines, making it a natural choice for forecourts, plazas, and entry zones.

Available in 4 sizes ranging from 24" to 44" ensuring the right scale for sculptural moments without overwhelming the landscape.

The collection is available in the full range of Botton + Gardiner powder coat colors, allowing seamless coordination. While there is no base drainage, an optional irrigation system can be integrated to support long-term planting health in urban settings. Designed for durability and visual cohesion, these planters deliver lasting performance with minimal maintenance.
